GOSSIP OF THE HORSES.

One of the Institutions of Great Britain, and Fanatics Cannot Tear It Down-Americans Could Profit by Patterning After the Old Country in Some Things-Fresh Light on the Shanghai Mary Controversy-Plenty of Light Harness Racing in This State-Entries for New Orleans and Alexander Island To-day

The English people do not take kindly to any interference with racing. London Sporting Life, in a recent issue, has the following to say upon the subject:

"The year that has just closed will be looked back to with a certain amount of veneration as mowing that England is still full of sport, and that all her institutions in that direction are regarded with feelings akin to jealousy by the mass of the people. State interference has always been resented in matters sportive, and, growing in strength under what may be called private dictatorships, sport has in a great measure been left alone to be self-governed. That it must always have some enemies is natural enough, as from the time of the Restoration the Puritans have declared against sport and every kind of amusement, and it is apparent such ideas bave never entirely died out. That the public does not believe that any enemy will be strong enough to do any harm is signified by the rise in racing stock, and I do not allude here to the produce of our stud farms, but to the dividends of race-course companies. Sandownes, Kemptons and Hurst parks have first-class and rising quotations, and Nottingham, not yet established two years, has declared a 6 per cent. dividend. For the year nearly 3,000 horses nearly 465,690 sovereigns, and still amounts to be won it is not very probable that the market for blood stock would be at a low ebb for any considerable time, and such views have been realized, for the prices, which fell after trade was for the most part stopped with South America, have risen again, and now racehorses of any pretensions to promise are, if anything, December sales everything that was really worth having sold well, and new buyers were noticeable from the ranks of wealth and posttion. The connection between the turf and those who feel a special interest in the utility herse of the country shows signs of new importance, as there is an excellent market for thoroughbred stallions to become sires of half-bred stock. Much of this is due to the efforts of the Royal Commission and the Hunter's Improvement Society, and the general results have shown that the thoroughbred is the horse of all others to fill the country with useful horses suitable as hunters, carriage horses, and backs. It has been a help to agriculture that farmers have accepted the offers of encouragement in the matter of breeding horses, and now our streets are better horsed, our companies better provided for, and our imports of horses less than have been shown by the returns of the Board of Trade for any preceding years. Thus, the great national sport of all-racing-spreads its influ-ence in a very unmistakable manner, and the whole turf institution was never more popular than at the present time." It is, of course, too early to say what the effect of the passage of the amendments to the Constitution in this State will be, but it is granted by all competent authorities on the subject that the racing industry especially in the East has been dealt a body blow. The farmers are only finding out now what they were voting against last November, so artfully were the good and the bad comingled by the conspirators who aimed to tear asunder the entire racing fabric, and they are filling the air with their cries now that their beoved dividend for their fairs will cease pouring in as for some years past. They would gladly undo what has been done had they the opportunity, and there is no doubt that could the subject be voted upon again the amendment would be defeated by an overwhelming majority. The stakes of the Western racing associations have filled well, and unless nething extraordinary should occur in the East most of the high-class racing will, be seen in the vicinity of Chicago during the coming year. In electing Mr. August Belmont to the Chairmanship of the Board of Stewards, the Jockey Chub acted wisely. If there is any man in New York capable of unravelling the tangle in which the Jockey Club finds itself, that man is August Belmont.

in which the Jockey Club finds itself, that man is August Belmont.

As the time draws near for trotting associations to announce their dates and programmes for 1895 it becomes more certain that the auti-betting amendment to the Constitution, which was adopted last November, is not going to have the immediate ruinous effect which horsemen at first feared it would have upon harness-racing interests in New York State. When the new Constitution went into effect, C. J. Hamilin of Buffalo, who controls the Driving Club in that city, said that if he decided to give any trotting meeting at all at Buffalo Park next season it would be a small affair in comparison with former Grand Circuit meetings.

It is now known, however, that the veteran track manager will give a two weeks meeting in 1855, not will store the trotted for at Euffalo has next stakes to be trotted for at Buffalo in August mext, which is soon to be ahnounced, will show that Mr. Hamilia means to hang up about as much money as usual for the harness horses.

Soon after election it was authoritatively announced that the Rochester Priving Park would remove the thorse of the time shoet in the proving club in Rochester, George W. Archer, on Saturday wired Secretary E. S. Hedges of the Driving Club in Rochester, George W. Archer, on Saturday wired Secretary E. S. Hedges of the Driving Club of New York that this decision had been reconsidered, and that his track would, after all, fall into line the week following Buffalo sheet for the state of the Driving Club of New York that this decision had been reconsidered, and that his track would, after all, fall into line the week following Buffalo's meeting in the Grand Circuit.

As the dates claimed by the Buffalo club are from Aug. 6 to 16, this would give Rochester the week of Aug. 19 to 24, and bring the Grand Circuit meeting at Fleetwood Park, which will probably follow Rochester, into conflict with the big meeting at Galesburg. Ill, where C. J. Hamilia, Monroe Salisbury, and many other owners have siready engaged their horses on these dates. This arrangement is accordingly unsatisfactory to the managers of the New York meeting, which have made an enterprising effort to stiract the best horses on the ture of the contract of the stream of the second of the stream of the second of the Charles Backman, John H. Wallace, and others, and they embrace all that is certainly known about the origin of the grandan of Electioneer. The drover of early days appeared to be so timid about locating the exact time and place of his horse trade of 1830 that Wallace at last gave up the search, saying in his Monthly that the track had grown too hot for Wilcox, and intimating plajoly that a borse-stealing adventure probably figured in the history of Shanghai Mary if the Iruth were known.

All these details have come to be highly interesting and important in the light of recent developments, it having been shown that about the time of the horse tradeo? 1850 near Canton, O., a boy named Thaddeus Coffeen ran away from his home at Red Lion, O., taking with him his father's sorrel filly, three years old, by Iron's Cadmus, the sire of the famous old pacing mare Pocahontas, 2:17%. Whither he went or what became of him and his stolen filly has never been known to this day, but it is now believed that young Coffeen rode away in a northeasterly direction about 230 miles and there traded his Cadmus two-year-old to Horton Wilcox near the town of Canton, O.

Since this hypothesis was first brought forward last month some importent facts have been developed which greatly strengthen, if they do not prove, the case. Dr. J. C. Curryer, Superintendent of the State Farmers' Institute of Miunesota, who lived near Red Lion in 1850, writes to The Son that he remembers well the incident of "Thad" Coffeen having ran away from home on account of the shamerul whippings he received at the hands of his father for alting down in the saddle while exercising the runners belonging to the elder Coffeen. Dr. Curryer says the filly Thad took away with him was marked with four white legs and a white face, and that she was rather lank and legsy, with high, thin withers, like the famous Pocahontas. Her tail had been chewed off by the caires, giving her a peculiarly ungainly appearance, which reminded the farmer boys in the neighborhood of the "Grow

IS WIRE TAPPING LAWFUL? There Is Some Contention on that Point in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 .- A novel contention. which will prove interesting to bookmakers and other persons connected with horse racing, has been before Judge Cole in the Criminal Court on a motion to quash indictments found against Palmer P. Babcock and Fred J. Owen for tapping a telegraph wire and abstracting racing returns therefrom. The indictments charge Babcock and Owen with conspiracy in attempting to defraud the Western Union Telegraph Company through tapping their wire from the Alexander Island racing track. Alexander Island is territory racing track. Alexander Island is territory claimed both by Virginia and the District of Columbia, but the alleged offence was committed within the District.

In view of a decision rendered by Judge Cole last week thut the acts of Congress pronibited bookmaking in the District. It was claimed by the attorney for the defence that the furnishing of racing returns for use in pool rooms was an act accessory to this violation of law, and consequently illegal. It was contended that as the telegraph company was engaged in an illegal practice it was no offence to conspire against it. Judge Cole reserved his decision on the motion to quash.

Judge Cole reserved his decision on the motion to quash.

One of the persons concerned in the case says Judge Cole's decision of last week, that bookmaking in the District of Columbia is prohibited by law, will probably not result in causing the abolition of horse racing in the District. According to the decision, horse racing per se is not illegal, but merely bookmaking, and it is stated that at least one track is likely to be reopened and the results of races telegraphed thence to pool rooms situated in States which do not have prohibitory laws against bookmaking.

JIM DONOGHUE HAN ENTERED.

But His Brother Joe Will Not Face the Starters on the Shrewsbury To-day,

RED BANK, N. J., Jan. 27. The cold wave that arrived last night has placed the ice at this place in the finest condition for the skating races to-morrow, and they will be started at 1 o'clock. The latest entry is James A. Donogliue of Newburgh. His brother Joe has not signified any intention of entering or of being present. Johman, Rudd. Davidson. Moshier, and Clark were all out this morning trying the ice, and finding it good decided to try for some of the short-distance records later in the day.

About 4 o clock all were on the river again, and Billy Robertson measured off 100 yards and acted as starter. Davidson covered the distance in 9 seconds and Clarence Clark in 9.4-5 seconds, standing start. With a flying atart, however, both Davidson and Moshier made the distance in 7 seconds. The men skatted with a strong wind at their backs.

It is very cold to-night, and there is no doubt that the races will take place without further postponement. Johnson, Rudd, Davidson, Moshier, and Clark

PREEDMAN IN INDIGNANT.

Says the Story About A. G. Spaiding Buy ing the Club Is Based on Malice.

It is quite probable that the names of the men who will make up the new Board of Directors of the New York Baseball Club will be made publie by Andrew Freedman this week. As far as feels satisfied that they will fill the bill. It is also a possibility that several of the players will be signed and that final arrangements will be decided upon for the Southern trip. Manager Davis will return from Cohoes on Wednesday to remain here permanently. He will have a desk at the new headquarters, and will then be ready for business.

Mr. Freedman is quite indignant over the story that A. G. Spalding is the real purchaser of the New York Club, Freedman merely acting as his agent. In speaking of the matter to THE SUN reporter, the latter said:

"I cannot understand why such a silly story could be invented. There is absolutely no ground for it, except possibly malice. The man who is responsible for it came to me the other day and asked me to make him Secretary of the ciub. I have never met A. G. Spaiding in my life, and would not know him if I met him face to face. I only became acquainted with J. W. Spaiding one week ago last Wednesday, although the deal had been on for nearly two months.

Spalding one week ago last Wednesday, although the deal had been on for nearly two months.

"It seems strange that I should be or ticked so soon, for I've only been in control of the club for a few days, and have really done nothing to warrant any abuse. If I make missakes, that is another matter. I shall welcome honest criticism then and will try to profit by it; but in view of the fact that I have consummated this deal with my own money and for my own personal benefit. I think it is only just to treat me fairly. I am going to do my best to give New York cranks the greatest baseball possible, and shall not hesitate to spend money to get the players, if they are needed. If Stafford does not pan out at second base, I shall get another man who will. I have reason to believe that Davis will be a most efficient manager, and that with a bit of encouragement from the public the New Yorks will win the pennant.

"Yes, I have already selected my Board of Directors, but I shall not give their names out until some time this week. The reason I said that I would like to have J. W. Spaiding on the Board was simply because he represents a big block of minurity stock in the club held by himself. A. G. Spaiding, and Anson. He knows the baseball business thoroughly, and I should like to consult him often. But the control of the club will be in my hands at all times and, while I am ready and mixious to listen to suggestions. I shall do nothing unless I think it is for the best interests of the club.

"It is my chief aim to give the public high-class baseball. The Polo Grounds will be conducted in such a manner that the very best people can find enjoyment there. The accommodations for all the patrons, in fact, will be much better than heretofore. I shall lay down certain rules and requisitions as to the handling of crowds, and they will be strictly enforced. I have also told Mannager Davis what I want in the way of discipline, and he will see to it that the players behave themselves at all times."

WANTED PHIL KING TO ACT.

The Well-known Princeton Athlete Re-WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.-The former owners of this city to play second base on the team. He was approached a number of times by representatives of the club and offered all kinds of money to sign a contract for one, three, or five years; but King withstood all their blandishments. The stocky ex-Princetonian is now studying law in the office of Hahn, Myers & Brunner of New York city, and adheres to his resolution of two years ago that he will never lose his identity as an amateur. It is not generally known that King had a flattering offer nearly a year ago to go on the stage.

Joseph K. Strasburger secured a play in which the leading characters were a number of college athletes, and he proposed to have one of the scenes represent a football field. He had the leading part rewritten to fit Phil King and then turned the play over to him to read, with an offer of $300 a week if he would assume it.

Manager Jake Wells of the Richmond team in the Virginia State League is on the lookout for promising young pitchers. When these are secured his team will be completed. Wells will alternate behind the bat and on first base with tibbeon. Jim Gilman will be at second, Harry Berte at short, Jake Pender at third, with Hall as the extra man. The outposts will be taken care of by Groves, Foster, and Kain.

Georgetown University's gymnasium is filling up with candidates for the Mott Haven team. During the first week in May the field trials will be held on the college campus, and a team selected from the winners to enter the Mott Haven competitions. Three of the athletes are showing particularly good form. Mike Mahoney, who has reached 21 feet in a broad jump, will train specially for that line of field work. McCreery looks like a comer among the high jumpers. He has already leaped the crossbar at 5 feet 7 inches, and if he makes any sort of progress at all he should be among the topnotchers. SIZE OF THE WALKER CUTTER.

She Can Be Used in the Piace of the New Vallyrie if the Latter is a Fallure.

Judging by the reported dimensions of Fife's new cutter for A. B. Walker, the only reason Lord Dunraven challenged with an 89-footer was because that was the size of the Walker racer, and in the event of the new Valkyrie proving a failure Englishmen could fall back on the Fife cutter. Land and Water, in speaking of the two new English cutters, says: Mr. A. B. Walker's new recing cutter, which is being built by Messrs, J. and A. Inglis of Point House, Glasgow, from a design by Mr. W. Fife, Jr., will be hurried on for launching at the end of the current month, and the vessel will be

The fourteenth annual entertainment of the First Bohemian Boat Club was held at the Central Opera House on Saturday night. A CLOSE FIGHT AT CHESS.

THE METROPOLITANS SURPRISE A STRONG TEAM OF THE CITY CLUB.

After Four Hours' Play No Decisive Result In Reached, One Game Being Unfinished-The City Club Experts Score Four Victories to Three for the "Mets"-Jasuogrodeky Benten by a Youngster.

The third and final match of the second round of the Metropolitan Chess League series was played last Saturday night at the rooms of the Metropolitan Chess Club, 1,325 Third avenue. The "Mets" had to meet the experts from the City Chess Club on eight boards. Considering that the latter club brought a strong team. luding Showalter, Delmar, Jasnogrodsky, Halpern, and Huntington, while not one of the Metropolitans could claim more than a club reputation, it looked almost a certainty for the visitors when the teams sat down in the following order:

ing order:

Roche vs. Halpern, Honegger vs. Delmar, Raubirsche vs. Jasnogrodsky, Arnheim vs. Showaiter, Hein vs. Huntington, Meyer vs. Lewkowics, Lindback vs. Rockling, and Fleezonks vs. Devided. The first named of each pair represented the home team.
Play had not proceeded long, when the games, with the exception, perhaps, of the one on board No. 8, showed that the "Mets" meant fight and that it took the city men all their time to keep the lead by an odd game. The most striprising feature, however, of the match was the brilliant victory of Raubitschek, a lad only Is years old, over Jasnogrodsky. At a late hour all the games were finished, with the exception of the one between Arnheim and Showaiter, which stands adjourned until next. Wednesday night. The total of the night's play was four to three in favor of the visitors. The scores of the games.

FRED HOEY IN ENGLAND.

The Crack New York Wing Shot Captures Some Sweeps at the Gun Club Grounds, Fred Hosy, the well-known New York club man and wing shot, who is now shooting pigeons at Monte Carlo, stopped off at the Gun Club grounds, London, on his way to the Riviers, Jan, 12, and picked up one or two small sweepstake events. The Field, in speaking of his shooting, says:

"In order to obtain some practice for the Monte Carlo contests members were present in good numbers. The list of competitors embraced Mr. Hoey, a member of the New York Carteret Club, who, judging from the capital form he displayed, is a marksman of ability. Proceedings opened with the customary £1

Proceedings opened with the customary £1 handicap sweepstakes, and four of these events were first decided. Lord Westbury (24 yards) accomplished the best performance, as, with a score of fourteen kills out of fifteen, he was to the fore in a couple of pools. Mr. Skillow (254 yards), who came next, with eleven kills out of twelve, shared three sweepstakes, the other winners being Mr. Hoey (25 yards). Mr. Calder (25 yards), and Mr. Farker (25 yards). Then followed the New Year's £2 handicap sweepstakes, with a £26 cup or specie added, to which sixteen sportsmen subscribed.

"A strong wind blew across the traps, which greatly assisted the birds in their flight, and, in the opening round, no fewer than seven failures were recorded, the most noticeable feature being the hard lock experienced by Mr. Leigh, whose bird, hit fatally, fell dead out of bounds. No further misses occurred until the third round, when Mr. Hoey was besten by a fast rising bird from No. 1 trap. Mr. V. Harker had a difficult low filer from No. 2 trap, which got clear away; but Mr. Beddington falled at an easy infler from the centre trap. Mr. Calder's fourth pigeon also afforded a somewhat easy shot, as it came round to the right, but he was a trifle behind in both attempts. In the fifth round a clean miss was noted to Lord Vane Tempest, and in the next round Mr. Skillow falled to make any impression on a "snipe" from No. 1 trap.

and in the next round Mr. Skillow failed to make any impression on a "snipe" from No. 1 trap.

"Lord Westbury commenced the seventh round by scoring with a grand second barrel, and Mr. H. Barker followed suit with a clean kill. Mr. Firwood was not so fortunate, as he shot yards under a difficult riser from No. 2 trap. The scorer then announced a tie between Lord Westbury and Mr. Barker, who agreed to share the proceeds (£52). The total score registered 38 kills and 14 misses. In the thirty yards sweepstakes the misses exceeded the kills by one, and Mr. Hoey and Mr. Hannay were enabled to divide the spoil (£32), with the poor score of 4 kills out of 5. After a £2 handican, in which honors rested with Mr. Skillow and Lord Vano Tempest, had been decided, a couple of £1 handican aweepstakes throught shooting to a close.

"Mr. Hoey (29 yards) supplemented his previous success by dividing the first pool with Mr. Parker, while the second he won outright, stopping in all 9 rocks out of 10. The best score of the afternoon was made by the popular President of the club, Lord Westbury, who accounted for 22 birds out of 24."

SHARP PLAYING AT FOOTBALL. The Third Day's Struggles in the Long Island Championship Series.

The third day's play in the championship competition of the Long Island Suburban Football Association took place yesterday, and it is but fair to say that the playing of the six scheduled games was of the sharpest character, the post team work of the tournament being witnessed. The Woodside eleven defeated the Peerless team in the return match at Woodside, while the Glendales disposed of their old rivals, the Hamiltons, on the latter's grounds. The results of the day were: GLENDALE A. C., S; HAMILTON A. C., 5.

On their own grounds the Hamilton A. C. were defeated in a close contest with the Glendale A.

Adelphians Turn the Tables on the Y. M. C. A. at Handbalt.

The Adelphi Academy bandhall team turned the tables on the team from the Central Y. M. C. A. last Saturday afternoon. A week before at the Central symmasium the Christians defeated the Adesputa-symmasium the Christians Last Saturday the games seven out of eight games. Last Saturday the games were played at the Adelphi court. The record now stands: Central Y. M. C. A., won 7, lost 6; Adelphi, lost 7. As the result is left somewhat unsetwon 6, lost 7. As the result is left somewhat unset-tied by the absence of a Y. M. C. A. pinyer, particu-larly as the Adelphians do not claim the matra two games by forfeiture, a deciding series will doubtless be played. Next Sainroay the "Poly Prep" Asielphi match will be played at the Adelphi court. The scores on Saturday were:

WHERE STRIKES ARE NUMEROUS.

How the Bowlers in Important Tourna-ments Stand Up to Date. Now that the American National Tournament is ended the devotees of the sport will undoubtedly pay more attention to the Uncle Sam National Tournament. Nine of the A. N. T. clubs have teams entered in the Uncle Sam competition. The Orchards lead with a record of four victories and no defeats. The Manhattan and Krakehlia bowiers, old-time competitors, are giving the younger players a lively tussle. The champions of the Bank Clerks' League, the Citizens' Savings team, are now tied with three other teams for second place. This race has narrowed down to a struggle between five has narrowed down to a struggle between fiv-teams, and a great finish is expected. The Cyclones and Orientals have each to play on game in the Yorkville and Harism Leasue. The championship linges on the result of these con-tests. Although the Golden Rods lost another game last week, they still have a winning lea-in the Arlington League. In the Amateur Asso-ciation the New Jersey A. C. team's lead ha-been cut down to one game. BOSTON BOWLERS BEATEN

were thronged with enthusiasts of the game on Saturday night when the Cherry Diamond Bowling Club, a semi-private organization comrosed in the most pact of the members of the old M. A. C.'s team, rolled against ten Roston bowlers called the All-Massachusetts team. To make the contest more interesting the teams were subdivided into four teams of five men each, one team of five men from the old

Hay State being called the All-Massachuseits and the other the Dorchesters, while the Man hattan bowlers were divided into two teams of five men each, called Cherry Diamond No. 1 while the division of the teams pleased the while the division of the teams pleased the bowlers it caused any number of complications, and many of the spectators did not know where they were at. The tangle was cleared up when Cgpt. Sage of the Cherry Diamonds finally announced that the totals of the five-men teams would not count as individual games, but the grand total of the three games teach team would be added together, and the team having the highest aggregate total would be declared the winner of the match.

The Ail-Massachusetts team was composed of members of the Casino Club of Hoxbury, the Dorchester Centrals, and the old Dorchester Club of Dorchester. The first game was calegory of the Casino Club of Hoxbury, the Dorchester Centrals, and the old Dorchester Club of Dorchester. The first game was calegory of the Casino Club of Hoxbury, the Dorchester Centrals, and the Old Dorchester Club of Hoxbury the Dorchester Centrals, and the Justice of Club of Hoxbury the Dorchester Centrals and Cherry Diamond team No. 1 and the All-Massachusetts team bowling on alleys 1 and 2, while the Dorchesters and Cherry Diamond feer who had been been considered to the team of the team was second with 208.

After a red hot fight on alley No. 1 the Cherry Diamond representatives rolled up the tremendous total of 125 pins, while Sullivan of the home team was second with 208.

On the other alleys the Dorchester boxies evened matters up by defeating the Cherry Diamond's second team by a score of 8:25 to 798, the score at the end of the Brst game standing Cherry Diamonds, 1,724; All Massachusetts, 1,892.

The men from the Hub were apparently not a bit disheartened, and the way they pried my strikes and spares in the second game elicited rounds of applause. On alleys 1 and 2 the All Massachusetts team took the lead in the second frame and held it all through the game, winning by a score of 883; to 833, while on alleys 3 and 4 their Dorchester friends tied the Manchester boys total of 859. This put the Boston bowlers twenty-four pins in the lead to start the last game with, the grand total of each team being: All Massachusetts, 3,440; Cherry Diamonds, 3,416. The manner in which the Cherry Diamonds, on alleys 1 and 2, knocked the pins down, took the heart out of the visitors, and the result was the Manhattan bowlers won a hard-earned victory by nitety-one pins, the score of the last game being: Cherry Diamonds, 1,723; All Massachusetts, 1,608. LEEDS'S LUCKY BLOW.

After Being Outfought He Lands on Me-Keever's Chin, and the Battle Is Over. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27. Horace Leeds, the Atlantic City boxer, last night bested Charle, McKeever, the Philadelphia light weight, who has been classed as a probable champion. The men met in a four-round bout at the Winter Circus building, and until within a minute of Circus building, and until within a minute of the end of the last round McKeever had all the better of it. Then Leeds countered with his right on the point of McKeever's chin and the latter dropped. He got up in a groggy condition, whereupon Leeds repeated the blow, and the fight was over, McKeever arose when he was knocked down the second time, but the referee, Jack Fogarty, stopped the bout, as a complete knock-out would undoubtedly have resulted.

Thirty-five hundred persons were in the building when, shortly after 10 o'clock, the men en-Thirty-five hundred persons were in the building when, shortly after 10 o'clock, the men entered the ring. McKeever showed his superiority at the beginning by meeting Leed's rushes with left-hand labs in the race, and he soon had the latter's right eye closed. During the first three rounds McKeever used his left with damaging effect and outfought Leed's at every point. In the third round McKeever fought his man all over the ring, and it was regarded as only a question of time when Leed's would receive his quietus. Leed's clinched to avoid punishment whenever McKeever landed.

McKeever came up confidently in the fourth round and was regarded as a sire winner, so effectively was he landing blows on his optonent. Suddenly, however, Leed's railled, and, countering with his right, the fight was over before the enthusiastic spectators could comprehend fully what had happened. Asseveral pagilists who were man the ring remarked, it was "100 to 1" on McKeever before the latter half of the fourth round.

So much disastification has been expressed by McKeever's friends at the result of the "go' that another match is likely to result. To night Prof. John H. Clark posted $250 with the Record for a fluish fight between McKeever and any 15th pound white man, the stake to be $1,000 a side.
